

BURGLAR IS SENTENCED

William Kelly—White Burglar—Pleaded Guilty in Court Today.

Theif is Sent to the Jeffersonville Reformatory on Indeterminate Sentence.

William Kelley, the white burglar, who was captured by Bert Meredith in the rear of his home on West Ninth street, Christmas eve and turned over to the police, and who was later identified by Mrs. Ben L. Smith, as the thief she saw at the foot of her bed in her room on the same night, today pleaded guilty in the circuit court to the two charges of burglary, and burglary and larceny, on which he was indicted by the grand jury, and was sentenced by Judge Sparks to prison for a term of from two to fourteen years.

Kelley was taken into court at 1:30 this afternoon by Sheriff Bainbridge. Upon being asked by the court as to what he had to say to the charges, he replied that he was guilty and that he would throw himself on the mercy of the court. He had employed no counsel and was represented by Gates Sexton, the attorney for the county. Kelley explained his presence in the house by stating that he was drunk and did not know what he was doing.

Upon learning that the prisoner was twenty-five years old, Judge Sparks gave him an indeterminate sentence of from two to fourteen years in the reformatory at Jeffersonville.

Kelley was led back to jail and upon reaching his cell broke down and wept. He will be taken to prison the first of the week.

DID NOT BUY BUD POSEY

The statement in the "Main Street Illuminary" that J. M. Amos, of this city had purchased Bud Posey 2:10 1/4, at the Lackey horse sale Tuesday is wholly false, inasmuch as the horse was sold to Edward Gillis, of Boston, Mass. "Nuf sed."

COMPETITION TO BE BRISK

Rumblings of discontent have been heard among passenger agents since solicitation was begun for the G. A. R. business to Denver next summer.

A few of the roads, it is stated, have over-exerted themselves to get this business. To be more specific, an exchange says, while it is customary to make some concessions to the delegations representing the bodies of veterans going to the encampment, in order that they may bring those whom they represent to a certain road, many are offering premiums and have involved so many passes and reduced rates that competitors of prize-giving roads can not get any of the business without making serious inroads on their earnings from this movement.

FOUND DEAD ON THE FLOOR

The body of Mrs. Nancy Wharton was found lying on the dining room floor of her home in Shelbyville Tuesday night cold in death. Her husband made the discovery shortly before 7 o'clock as he returned home from his work. The woman seemed to be in her usual good health in the morning when he went to work, and at noon some of the neighbors saw her about the house. She was fifty years old and it is supposed that her death was the result of fatty degeneration of the heart.

DANGER

Of Contracting Disease From Filthy Lucre Now Threatens Us.

Paper money will carry disease germs for one month; metal money will carry such germs only twenty-four hours according to the conclusions of Dr. Thomas Darlington, president of the New York Board of Health, who has been experimenting with bacteria on money and who has presented the result to the House Committee on Banking and Currency. The germs of only two diseases have been experimented with—consumption and diphtheria—and both of these may be communicated from one person to another on money.

KENDALL CASE AGAIN TODAY

Marcus Kendall—the Defendant—Was Placed on the Stand This Afternoon

The case of Alfred Kendall vs. Marcus A. Kendall, his son, to declare a deed to 160 acres of land in Richland township, a mortgage, occupied the attention of the circuit court again today and a large number of people were in attendance.

The case is being tried before Judge Clifford, of Indianapolis, and a jury.

The jury consists of the following named men: Jesse G. Bennett, Charles Kenner, Oliver E. Rich, James Davis, S. H. Young, Orris Wellman, John Looney, Fred E. Hudleson, Adam O. Gordon, Peter S. Hollowell, A. B. Hinchman and Tom Dill.

The defendant was placed on the stand this afternoon and upon cross examination, became badly muddled in his story of the transactions with his father. Several other witnesses were examined. The case, it is thought, will be finished by noon tomorrow.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE

Interpretation of This Unwritten Law is What is Sticking Senate.

Washington, March 9.—The Santo Domingo treaty was practically perfected by the senate committee on foreign relations so far as phraseology is concerned and without regard to the principles involved in the procedure proposed by the Dominican convention. The committee progressed so far that it has agreed to take a vote on the treaty to determine whether the report will be in favor of ratification or rejection. What that report will be cannot be determined positively, although it is believed it will be favorable. The Democratic members of the committee have expressed themselves as against the treaty fundamentally, although they took an active part in the presentation and adoption of amendments. It is expected that most of the Republican senators will vote to report the treaty as amended.

All amendments adopted by the committee were with a general aim of making the question covered stand alone and of removing all chance of it being used as a precedent for like countries under guise of being required by the Monroe doctrine. For instance, one of the first amendments strikes out that portion of the second paragraph of the preamble which has been construed as a definition and application of the Monroe doctrine to the Santo Domingo case.

The cost of the British expedition into Tibet was $4,063,750, all of which India will have to bear.

A PRETTY SCRAMBLE

No End of Applicants For Jobs Created by the Legislature.

Attractive are the Places in the Newly Created Railway Commission.

Indianapolis, March 9.—Governor Hanly is about to be snowed under with applications for places on the railway commission. Dr. Samuel N. Quillin of Linton, a well-known Second district politician, is an applicant for membership of the commission, which will consist of two Republicans and one Democrat. It is the general impression, however, that Governor Hanly will appoint some Democrat who is on terms of more intimate friendship with him than is Quillin.

Friends of ex-State Senator Eben H. Wolcott, who was one of the originators of the railway commission bill, are asking for a position for him. He hails from Governor Hanly's district and has been one of his personal and political followers for several years. John Clare of New Albany and W. J. Wood of Evansville are applicants for the membership that will be given to some Democrat. C. B. Riley, secretary of the Indiana Grain Dealers' association, is an applicant for the secretaryship of the commission, which pays $2,500 a year. Fred Barrows of Connersville, chairman of the Fayette county Republican committee, and Elijah Perry, chairman of the Tipton county Republican committee, are also applicants for places on the commission. The scramble promises to bring into action many of the party leaders who are being asked for endorsements by the host of applicants, but those who know Governor Hanly's disposition to act on his own judgment do not believe it will do anyone any good to attempt to bring pressure to bear on him. It would not be surprising if he should make the appointment any day, as it is intimated that he already has his mind pretty well made up in the matter.

HON. GUFFIN IS HOME AGAIN.

With the adjournment of the legislature, Hon. H. E. Guffin, representative from this county, has returned to his home to take up the thread of everyday affairs. The people of this county may be proud of their representative as he has discharged, to the very best of his ability, the trusts reposed in him by his constituents.

Mr. Guffin has had a great many applications for copies of the fish and game reports. He states that the reports are not yet printed, but as soon as he receives his quota of copies he will accommodate all applicants until the supply is exhausted.

LACE CURTAINS STOLEN FROM BOX

J. R. Carmichael and Bro. Suffer Small Loss at Hands of Thieves.

A box of dry goods shipped via the Big Four by the Sterling-Welch Co., of Cleveland, O., to J. R. Carmichael & Bro., the well-known dry goods merchants of this city, was broken into by thieves who entered the car either in this city or during transit. The box was found to have been opened when it was taken from the car by the draymen.

When the contents of the box were checked up at Carmichael's store, twelve pairs of lace curtains were found to be missing. The curtains, fortunately, were not of the highest priced sort, for they were valued in all at $9.00.

SAFE BLOWN OPEN

Postoffice at Metamora is Entered but the Thieves Are Frightened Away.

Again the town of Metamora, southeast of here, was visited by a gang of burglars who broke into the postoffice at an early hour Tuesday morning and blew open the outer safe door. The noise of the explosion aroused postmaster Jackson, who lives over the office, and as he hurriedly went down stairs he was just in time to see two men making their escape through a rear window of the office. Several shots were exchanged, but all went wide of their mark. The fellows were tracked to the river bottoms, but there they were lost and no other clue to their whereabouts can now be found. After an investigation through the postoffice, Mr. Jackson did not miss anything and it is the supposition that they were frightened away before their work was completed. Only about a year ago thieves entered the same office and got away with some money and stamps.

ARE SELLING MUCH HIGHER

Yesterday's Sales at the Lackey Horse Sale Averaged $365 per Head.

Wednesday's sales at the Lackey horse sale were much better than those of Tuesday. There were several large sales and the average price for horses sold was $365. Seventy-eight head were sold in all and they brought a sum total of $28,525.

Not only the prices brought, but the attendance too was much larger than on the opening day and the buyers, who were out in good numbers, were not slow in picking out their favorites and when one appeared it was quickly bid up. A number of new faces were in the ring, many of whom were after carload consignments. Kentucky horses were very liberally offered and many candidates for the famous Futurity races found ready sale. In the list of sales there were several race horses with records and a bunch of youngsters with fast trials brought good prices, while dealers looking for racers found many to suit the most fastidious tastes.

The following Rush county horses were sold: Josephine, Harold, 2:16, pacer, 5 years old, sired by Lord Harold, dam Lora Y., consigned by William Dagler, Rushville, to C. S. Osborn, Centerville, $525, and Red Rose, pacer, trial 2:18 1/4, 6 years old, sired by Gambrose, dam Dolly, consigned by J. S. Davitt, Rushville, to Allen Risk, $440.

THEY TAKE THE TRACTION LINE

Connersville People Come to This City to Go to Indianapolis.

(Connersville Examiner)

It develops that a good many Connersville people are patronizing the interurban from Rushville to the capital city. This has become so noticeable to the management that they have decided to go after the business from this point, and have placed their time table in the Examiner, it appearing in another column of this issue. By taking the steam cars to Rushville and the interurban on into the city from that point passengers will not only save a considerable item in fare, but will also enjoy the novelty of a trolley ride.

The service is not perfect yet, by any means, but is improving daily and in a sort time the interurban will be competing with the steam cars in point of speed.

THE ARMY IN FULL RETREAT

Russians Seeking Safety in Flight Toward the North.

What the Japs May Have in Store for Fleeing Slavs Remains to be Disclosed.

General Kuropatkin is giving ground before the armies of Japan, and yesterday he abandoned positions south and southwest of Mukden, burning such of his supplies as he could not carry with him. The Japanese artillery is thundering at the very gates of Mukden, which position the Russians still hold, but which they are admittedly preparing to evacuate, changing their base to Tie pass, which is forty miles north of Mukden. So far as the retreat has progressed it has been orderly. What the Japanese may have in store for the defeated army on its retirement northward remains to be disclosed. There are reports that General Rennenkampf, the foremost cavalry general of the Russian army in Manchuria, has been cut off on the east from the main force, and Japanese troops in considerable numbers are said to be already in the vicinity of Tie pass. The retirement unquestionably cost the Russians dear in the matter of supplies and heavy guns. Neither commanders nor correspondents have yet ventured to estimate the number killed or wounded in the eleven days of fighting. The Russian casualties in the fighting Tuesday on the left flank are said to have been fully 7,000.

BROAD SOCIAL INTERESTS

Are Advocated by Representative Churchmen as Helps in the Christian Life.

Bishop Boyd Vincent, of the Episcopalian church, and Bishop John Vincent, of the Methodist church, are cousins, but while they are representative churchmen of different denominations, nevertheless they are thoroughly agreed on a vital question in the life of every Christian—the value of social intercourse, and as to whether society conduces to more complete Christianity or whether one's spiritual life is dwarfed or atrophied by too keen pursuit of the pleasures of this world.

In an interview some weeks ago Bishop Vincent, of the Methodist church, strongly declared himself in favor of social diversions, declaring that they broadened and deepened the character of a man or a woman and that a broad social life was far to be preferred to a narrow life of few interests and aims.

"Many people refuse to take part in social life," he said, "and look askance upon it because of its superficiality and frivolity, whereas in reality they take no part in social life and appear to disapprove it not because they really feel its limitations and shortcomings, but on the contrary, because they are unable to shine as they wish, and because they have no social talents to become leaders."

"It is not necessary to thrust one's Christianity upon one's fellowmen and be continually discussing it, rather let it radiate from one unconsciously and impress others by its sincerity and beauty."

Bishop Boyd Vincent, when interviewed, heartily endorsed his kinsman's opinions, saying that he believed a broad social life to be one of the most successful means in developing one's moral and mental life; that the ability to meet all kinds and conditions of men and to draw out and attract the best in them was one of the distinctive traits of the Christian gentleman or the Christian gentle woman.

EXISTING RELATIONS

Attitude of the Steam Railroads Toward the Interurban.

One of the live issues which is beginning to press for settlement by the passenger officials of the roads operating east of Chicago is the question of their attitude toward the electric interurban roads. The question has been discussed at various times before, and it will come up again for discussion at the meeting of the Central Passenger Association, held at Chicago today.

So pressing has the matter become that it is probable some definite action will be taken at this meeting. Some of the roads which have been paralleled by electric lines have fought their competition bitterly, making every inducement to secure the local business.

There is no doubt that a majority of the railroads which have suffered from the competition of the electric lines are disposed to fight them, and, it would not be surprising if out of the renewed agitation which has been started, would come some rule prohibiting roads in the association from exchanging tickets with any of the electric lines.

THOUGHTS OF THE PEOPLE

The publisher of the Daily Republican recognizing the fact that nearly every one has some good idea which would be of interest to the public to have generally known, has decided from time to time to publish a department under the above heading and we therefore invite any citizen in the county to express his views on any subject of interest to the public as briefly as possible in this department. It will not be necessary to write over your own signature, but initials or a nom de plume may be used, but in all cases the letter must be accompanied by the name of the writer as a guarantee of good faith and a protection to the publisher. Who will be the first to have something to say under this department? All communications must be signed as the Republican will not stand liable for any statements made.

BY THE WAYSIDE

"I have dropped onto a new way," said a resident, "to bring my wife home when she is away on a visit and I am getting anxious for her return. About a month ago my wife went to a neighboring city to visit her mother. Her visit was prolonged and I was getting tired of preparing my own meals or obtaining them at a boarding house. I had been mailing her a copy of the Republican each evening and finally hit on a plan to bring her home. For the past few days I have been clipping out some items in the paper each evening. Curiosity got the better of my wife. She did not understand why she did not get the whole paper, and thinking that I must be clipping out items of a personal nature, she decided to come home and find out. She dropped in unexpectedly last evening, and today I heard her borrowing the last few copies of the Republican from a neighbor. I have not told her of my scheme yet."

RUSHVILLE, IND. MAR. 9, 1905.

It appears that under the new law for the government of cities and towns, the next Mayor will be a man of power. He will appoint the city attorney, board of health, city civil engineer, fill all vacancies in council caused by death or resignation, and through his appointed boards and officers, dictate expenditures of all money appropriated by council. The necessity of the right kind of a Mayor is apparent, especially as upon his ability, honesty and fairness will depend the kind of a city government we shall have for four years.

NEW LAW ON HIGHWAYS

Some Important Changes Made by the Codification Commission.

Indianapolis, March 9.—The codification commission's bill on public highways has been signed by Governor Hanly. The new law provides that people may vote for or against proposed road improvements. The code originally prohibited the working out of road taxes, but this was inserted before it was adopted. The Long bill providing for transfer of surplus county and township funds to the school fund to enable poor localities to hold longer terms of school was signed today, as was the bill to increase the per diem of county superintendents from $4 to $4.50 a day. It is said, however, that the governor will veto Senator Carl Wood's bill for a new judicial district to be composed of Jackson and Scott counties. The bill was rendered defective because another creating a separate judicial district of Fountain county makes it the 61st and there cannot be two districts with the same number. The governor is engrossed with bills brought down during the closing days of the session and will probably not dispose of all of them before the latter part of the week.

Columbus, Seymour, North Vernon and Bedford are in a lively fight for the location of the proposed southeastern Indiana hospital for the insane. Senator Carl Wood of Seymour who was here today, says that by locating it at Seymour the state would save $15,000 over what it would cost to erect the institution near Columbus, as proposed by Representative Springer of Bartholomew county. Seymour has an excellent location for the institution within 500 feet of the Baltimore & Ohio and Indiana Southern roads.

Senator Wood thinks that Seymour and North Vernon are the only cities in the district that can comply with the provisions of the law relating to railway facilities. The hospital bill was originally introduced by Senator Wood, who is a Democrat, but it bears the name of Senator Newhouse, a Republican. Representative Springer introduced a similar measure in the house, but it is said that he and Senator Newhouse copied the Wood bill. Springer is trying to line up the Republican leaders for Columbus, and it is the impression that he will succeed. Lieutenant Governor Miller, who is still here rounding up the legislative work, resides in Columbus and will use his influence to have the hospital located there. Governor Hanly has not yet appointed the commission to locate the institution, but will probably do so next week.

There is every prospect of a hot fight developing in the election of a commander of the Indiana G. A. R. at the 26th annual encampment of the department of Indiana to be held at Madison beginning June 14. Three candidates are already in the field and other announcements are expected shortly. Former State Senator J. M. Barlow of Plainfield has begun his canvass. He is known as a hustler and his friends are saying that he will win if he continues to put into practice the fine points that he learned while in active politics. D. M. Tackett of Greensburg and Jerome Musser of Anderson are the other candidates. Both have served terms as senior vice commander and have wide acquaintance among G. A. R. men in the state.

Four indictments have been returned by the Marion county grand jury which is meeting in special session, but none of them are against ex-Senator O. A. Baker of Marion, the tobacco trust lobbyist accused by Representative Ananias Baker with attempting to bribe him to vote against the anti-cigarette bill. Prosecutor Benedict, who is in charge of the investigation, says he can find no place where the corporations placed any money for corrupt purposes. It is not believed here that anything will come out of the investigation.

EXPENSES OF LEGISLATION

A comparison of the expenditures of the house and senate during the recent legislature shows that the senate was more extravagant than the lower branch. The total expenditures by the senate was $60,073.82; by the house $67,476.72, but it must be remembered that there are twice as many members in the house. The senate's bill shows that for the printing of the codification bills alone $4,776.69 was spent. The contract that the state printer has with the state for printing legislative bills calls for the printing of 200 copies of each bill. Instead of ordering 200 copies of each of the six codification bills the senate, according to the financial budget, ordered 2,000 copies of each bill or a total of 12,000 copies. Two hundred copies of each codification bill were sent over to the house, the house having ordered none of the bills printed. This left the senate with 1,800 to dispose of. The records show that the bills were sent broadcast over the state, nearly every county clerk receiving a number of them. In the office of the county clerk of Marion county is a stack of them. It is said. The sending out of bills in this manner is not compulsory, say state officials in the bureau of public printing. The senate's bill for postage is out of proportion to that of the house. With a membership of fifty the senate spent $4, more for postage than did the house with a membership of 100.

A SHORT TRIAL

The Chadwick Case Is Almost Ready for the Argument.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 9.—The case of the government against Mrs. Chadwick was completed yesterday afternoon. The entire afternoon session of the court was taken up by the introduction of evidence of character, deposit slips, books of the bank and two letters written by Mrs. Chadwick to Beckwith and Spear.

The most important point made by the state in its entire case was gained when District Attorney Sullivan, after a hard fight with the attorneys for the defense, secured the admission as evidence of two drafts aggregating $80,000 issued by the Oberlin bank in favor of Mrs. Chadwick Aug. 24, 1903. On this same date Mrs. Chadwick obtained from the bank a certified check for $12,500, and Receiver Lyon testified that there was nothing on the books of the bank to show that at the time of receiving the drafts and the check Mrs. Chadwick had a cent of money in the bank or was in any way entitled to credit. The drafts were entered on the books of the bank one month and five days after being issued. During this time the books of the Oberlin bank showed that the money was held to its credit at the Importers and Traders National bank in New York, while it was in reality in the possession of Mrs. Chadwick.

It is believed that only a part of today's session of the court will be required for the witnesses for the defense, and that the attorneys will commence their arguments late this afternoon.

A $100,000 Blaze.

East St. Louis, March 9.—The plant pany on Fifteenth street was damaged by fire to the extent of $100,000. Much valuable machinery was destroyed and for some time the entire plant, which is one of the largest in the West, was threatened.

May End in Deadlock.

Denver, Col., March 9.—Proceedings in the joint conference of the general assembly indicate a deadlock in the gubernatorial contest. Twenty-two Republican members joined forces with the Democrats on a test vote and these Republicans, it is rumored, have agreed to stand together in favor of seating Lieutenant Governor Jesse A. McDonald as governor.

How They Evaded Arrest.

Vicksburg, Miss., March 9.—Rather than submit to arrest on a charge of stealing chickens, John Dolan, colored, drowned himself in the canal in front of this city. A similar case occurred but a few hours before when an unknown negro apparently demerited, jumped into a cistern to escape pursuit of police officers and was drowned.

John Caven Dead.

Indianapolis, March 9.—John Caven, five times mayor of Indianapolis, died this morning, aged eighty-one years. Death was due to the infirmities incident to old age.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

Colonel A. W. McCormick, a prominent attorney of Cincinnati, died suddenly of heart trouble.

Present advices indicate that Kuropatkin is badly beaten in the bloodiest battle of the present war.

General Booth of the Salvation Army has arrived at Jerusalem, where he intends to hold a series of meetings.

It is again reported that Premier Balfour is experiencing great difficulty in filling the vacancies in his cabinet. The report that M. Witte, president of the committee of ministers at St. Petersburg, has resigned is officially denied.

The wholesale grocery house of Williamson, Hallsell, Frazer company was destroyed by fire at Chickasaw, I. T. Loss, $100,000.

THE GREATEST THINGS IN LIFE

Col. T. Milton Ochiltree in a sudden burst of eloquence set forth what he considered the "Great Things" in the World, but after "summing" it up, it all sounds too poetic; he was soaring too high, only here and there dipping his pen in nature, and consequently overlooked some of the following good things; at least they deserve to be classed among the greatest things in the material world—the world where in we live:

A good topical song, well sung by a serio-comic.

A choice aromatic Havana cigar on a full stomach.

A good position to see the circus parade.

A royal flush in your hand and the other fellow trying to make you lay down.

A good seat way up in front, the orchestra playing and the curtain ready to rise.

A shady nook, a babbling brook, a good, clever, congenial girl close by your side—No moonlight.

A bag of peanuts, a cane, a baloon, hokey-pokey and six tickets on the merry-go-round.

A good seat, right behind the pitcher's curves and the locals piling up runs against the opponents "goose eggs."

A long shot on a horse race and all the horses fall down, except your choice.

The obituary of a gossiping man or woman, who do more real injury to humanity than all the other criminals, felons and crooks combined.

A half-hour struggle with a black bass, and finally land it.

A crowd of good fellows, a bohemian atmosphere, an orchestra hidden behind palms, an eight-course dinner about seven p. m.—That's all.

LODGE ANECDOTES AND STORIES

The following short sketches are of actual occurrence and have been related to the writer by fraternal friends who had been actual witnesses of the occurrences.

A candidate was being initiated into an order and the boys recognizing the fact that he was a "jolly good fellow" and would take everything in good humor, they gave him the "worth of his money" and as a consequence considerable noise was being made and things generally were being somewhat shaken up. The stove pipe was none too well secured, responded to the fun and shook itself violently several times and finally unable to restrain itself, fell to the floor with a loud crash.

Several weeks after that occurrence another candidate was being initiated and when the ceremonies reached that point where the pipe fell during the initiation of the new member and this incident failed to take place, the brother thinking that an important feature of the work was being omitted, jumped to his feet and ceasing a wand rushed at the stove pipe and cried out in a loud voice "knock down the pipe," suiting his actions to his words. Though many years have passed this incident is still told by the members of the lodge in which it happened.

SUMMER GARDEN

Know What to Plant and How to Plant it.

Be the garden large or small, the planting plan should be made before the season for planting arrives. A considerable amount of pleasure can be derived from this planning, and that is the spirit with which one should begin. Don't make work of it. Enjoy it. By planning in advance one can know where and how much space each thing is to employ. And you will not get too much of one thing and have something left out.

Measure the available ground and make a plat of it. Then consider the location of the various different plants. The latter is very essential. Some need less sunshine than others, and such can be placed where the sunshine is least.

Whether to plant in rows or in beds must be left largely to the gardener's fancy, and the condition of the soil.

A dry, sandy soil should never be ridged or raised into beds. If left level it will hold moisture so much better. On the other hand, a stiff clay soil that has had a tendency to be too wet can be improved greatly by making up in beds four feet wide and raised eight or ten inches above the walks.

If possible plan to have rows run north and south. This is because the plants receive more sunlight than if planted east and west. If the latter, one side of the plant receives the light in the morning and the other in the afternoon.

BREAKING THE STRIKE

New York Street Railway Conditions Becoming Normal.

New York, March 9.—A very decided improvement in the conditions of traffic on the subway and elevated railroads marked the second day of the strike of the employees of the Interborough company. This was especially so on the subway, on which by the time the evening rush hours came, express service had been established and affairs had almost resumed their normal aspect. On the elevated lines service was more irregular, but continued to improve, especially on the Sixth avenue line. There was practically no disorder and only a few minor accidents occurred during the day. Officials of the Interborough company expressed confidence that they had the situation well in hand and that a few days would see a full resumption of service on all lines. The officials announce that they have received assurances of the intention of 50 per cent of the strikers to resume work as individuals, and that forty of the old motormen had already been taken back. This was positively denied by President Pepper of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees, who declared that he could account for every one of the men who had gone on strike and that there had been no sign of disaffection in the ranks.

A Question of Rebates.

Topeka, Kan., March 9.—During the year ending June 30, 1902, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway company paid back to shippers the sum of $1,198,352. This fact was developed in the examination of W. J. Healy, freight auditor of the Santa Fe, before the attorney general, who is taking depositions in the case he has instituted to ascertain whether or not the Santa Fe is violating the anti-trust law of Kansas. It is the theory of the state that these overcharges are in reality rebates, and that an examination of the vouchers will show that the greater portion of the payments have been made to the Standard Oil company and other monopolies.

Must Tell What They Know.

Terre Haute, Ind., March 9.—Members of the citizens' committee of ninety and newspaper men, twenty in all, have been summoned to appear before the grand jury to tell what they know on which they based their assertions, in newspapers, in conversation, or in the meetings of the committee, about graft in the county offices. A number of the witnesses are farmers who have been complaining for several years that gravel road and bridge contracts have been swindled, both as to the amount of the contract and the failure to comply with specifications.

Entertained at White House.

Washington, March 9.—Captain Seth Bullock and his company of cowboys, whose picturesque appearance was a feature of the inaugural parade, were given a reception last night by the president. They walked to the White House in the rain, having sold their ponies which they brought with them from the West. Captain Bullock and his men remained at the White House for an hour, having an informal chat and smoke with the president. They left for home today.

Republican Editors Meet.

Washington, March 9.—The National Republican Editorial association held its sixth annual convention in this city yesterday. Its features were the annual address by the president, John A. Schleicher of Leslie's Weekly, read in his absence by Secretary A. O. Bunnell; remarks by Vice President Fairbanks; the election of officers, and a reception at the home of Vice President Fairbanks last night.

Kills Saloonkeeper.

Danville, Ill., March 9.—John Tabor, member of the soldiers' home here, shot and fatally wounded John Horr, a saloonkeeper. Two balls entered the victim's back.

Autocracy's Voice.

St. Petersburg, March 9.—A sensation was caused by a leading editorial in the Moscow Gazette, the traditional spokesman of autocracy, declaring that the present revolt in the interior should be put down immediately in the fashion which General Michael Muraviev crushed the Polish and Lithuanian rebellion in 1863. "It would be a sad sacrifice of life," says the Gazette, "but a hundred times less now than if the revolt were allowed to continue until it becomes absolutely necessary to take decisive steps."

BAR-BEN NERVE FOOD

Builds up the Body, Brain and Nerves.

It cures the germ and microbes in the blood, expelling the morbid, unhealthy matter which irritates the nervous system and breaks down the vitality of men and women. # NEW YORK FASHIONS

Patterns For Lady's Costume Designed by Martha Dean

Possibly the revival of the quaint and old fashioned is responsible for the unprecedented vogue of the surplice or cross-over effects this season. The blouse is made on a fitted lining. The full outside portions may be stitched to the fanciful shaped yoke or collar or it may be worn unattached. The sleeve is a pretty model, with big circular puffs above the elbow. The lower part of the sleeve is tight fitting and may be of lace or material. The skirt is one of the newest shaping—circular, in fact, on sides and back and with fullness gathered back of the narrow front gore. It is by far the best "full skirt" model to be had, for, while it is full and the required width at the lower edge, the upper part has very little fullness to dispose of. The skirt may be trimmed with ruffles, puffs or quillings. The illustration shows a brown voile with cream lace collar and cuffs. The surplice front is edged with velvet, over which is the lace applique. A brown velvet or leather colored cloth belt finishes the costume. Patterns Nos. 6208 and 6209. Sizes for waist, No. 6208, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Sizes for skirt, No. 6209, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 inches waist measure.

DIRECTIONS FOR ORDERING
Send 20 cents to this office, give numbers of these patterns, Nos. 6208 and 6209, and state sizes desired. They will then be sent to you by mail postpaid. Or either of the patterns will be sent for 10 cents. Be sure to write plainly and always give full address. Several days must be allowed for delivery of pattern.

GRANDFATHER'S BAROMETER.

(B. L. Putman in Scientific American)

I.

Not a dainty affair with silver or satin trimmings, nor yet with the credentials of Uncle Sam attached; but a constant companion, shifting from woods and fields to skies—this was the weather bureau of our grandfathers; and mingled with the signs and omens of old there was just enough of fact that the old-timer sometimes gets the best of it now in foretelling the weather.

"Rainbow at night, sailors' delight; Rainbow in the morning, sailors take warning; Rainbow at noon, rain very soon."

Just adapt this couplet the next time a rainbow comes your way and see for yourself.

A combination of rain and sunshine was also supposed to bring rain the next day.

Another verse which found favor was—

"Evening red and morning gray Will set the traveler on his way; Evening gray and morning red Will pour down rain upon his head."

This is but an adaptation of the adage that a red sunset is a sign of clear weather. And if the sun goes down in a cloud rain will surely come the next day. If smoke from the chimney settles instead of excepting in dry weather, when the prophet assures us, "all signs fail."

If it clears off in the night, look for rain the next day. If smoke from the chimney settles instead of rising, there is a storm at hand. When sound travels a long distance there is also a storm near. Never expect much storm in the old of the moon. The absence of dew and an unusually heavy dew are alike forerunners of rain.

FLIGHT FROM MUKDEN

It Was Begun About Dawn on Wednesday.

Mukden, March 8, 4:30 a. m.—The Japanese last night attacked the Russian positions north of Mukden and forced the Russians to fall back a little. The Japanese are concentrating on the west front. This may be the last dispatch out of Mukden, as the telegraph line is in danger of being destroyed. The battle is in full progress. The Russian army is leaving positions south and southeast of Mukden. The sky is lighted with the brilliant glare of burning warehouses, where tons of commissary supplies have been given to the flames. The retirement is being effected in perfect order, the Russians beating off attacks of pursuing Japanese.

The withdrawal was necessitated by a heavy concentration of Japanese west and northwest of Mukden, whither they have transferred a large share of the forces from the southern front to reinforce the original striking force of General Nogai.

Non-Combatants Suffer.

Mukden, March 9.—The Chinese are suffering greatly as a result of the fighting. Many of their villages have been burned by shell fire and others have been set on fire by the retreating Russians. All the houses containing anything of value have been looted by the Russians.

AT ST. PETERSBURG

It is Now Recognized That Kuropatkin's Star Has Set.

Tokio, March 9.—It is officially announced that the Russians began retreating Wednesday morning. The Japanese armies are pursuing them.

St. Petersburg, March 9.—The battle of Mukden has resulted in a Russian defeat.

Field Marshal Oyama has once more proved himself one of the greatest masters of offensive strategy since Napoleon, while General Kuropatkin is now engaged in endeavoring to defend his title as a master of successful retreats and to bring off his army, with its immense trains, safely to Tie Pass, where a position was long ago prepared with this contingency in view.

The problem before the Russian commander-in-chief is much more difficult than the one he met successfully at Liao Yang, since now he is threatened on both flanks, his left wing being entangled in a mountainous region far from the railroad. Nevertheless Russian military men here express a fair degree of confidence in General Kuropatkin's ability once more to extricate his army and avoid a Russian Sedan. Besides his skill in rear-guard action, they base their hopes on the physical condition of the Japanese soldiers, who, though they are conceded to be the greatest marchers in the world, are well nigh exhausted by their strenuous endeavors of the last fortnight.

Only to the initiated is the news of the reverse positively known at this time. Emperor Nicholas and high military officers of course were informed by General Kuropatkin's telegram of Tuesday, stating tersely that Mukden must be abandoned, and they received details of the beginning of the withdrawal as they appeared in excised portions of the official dispatches given out yesterday. Last evening a newspaper contained a vague report of doubtful origin, credited to Chinese sources, but the first positive statement was derived from a press dispatch from General Kuroki's headquarters, the contents of which was quickly telegraphed to many Liberals from friends abroad. The report was not printed in today's papers, the government, true to its policy of breaking bad news gently, only preparing the way by authorizing the publication of a number of preliminary telegrams. The news, however, is only what was expected, ultimate retirement having been discounted from the moment Oyama inaugurated his brilliant move westward.

It is known that General Kuropatkin contemplated retirement before the beginning of the battle, and that he had hoped to accomplish it without a serious combat. The Japanese, however, forced him to accept battle. The double turning movement compelled him to send the major part of his reserves to the fighting line and rendered an effective counter stroke out of the question, and the decision to retire was immediately taken on March 6. Withdrawal was actually begun during that night.

The great question now is whether Field Marshal Oyama has entangled the Russians in his strategic retreat sufficiently to prevent a successful retreat to Tie Pass. General Rennenkampf's force to the eastward admittedly is in great danger of being cut off, and a considerable force of Japanese appears to be operating on the Russian right well toward Tie Pass. If the Japanese succeed in reaching the railroad and interrupting traffic, if only for a few hours, it may have the greatest consequences for Kuropatkin, who is now engaged in a literal race with the Japanese to reach a naturally defensible position forty miles northward. Thus far he has stood off all attacks directly against the flanks of his army, and holds the way of retreat open. He undoubtedly was forced to abandon a number of siege guns on his Shakhe position, but if he succeeds in turning over the army intact with the principal portion of its artillery train, to his successor, the Russian case will be by no means desperate, for Oyama will again have missed his quarry, and a comparatively barren victory will have been purchased at enormous cost of life.

All reports indicate that the Japanese were utterly reckless of sacrifices, making attack after attack, especially on the center and westward against machine guns and infantry fire, which literally mowed down the advancing columns, making human flesh so cheap that the survivors could bastion themselves behind piles of corpses.

After this action General Kuropatkin's deposition may be regarded as certain. War Minister Sakharoff is picked as his probable successor, though Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholasievich of the board of strategists may be entrusted with the direction of affairs. A strong faction of the army, those high in influence about the emperor, opposed Kuropatkin from the first, and though his early defeats were condoned because it was realized that he was doing all that man could with the tools at his command. It is now felt that after twice having had the opportunity to show what he could do with a powerful army, and having failed to accomplish victory every time, his removal is advisable. A high military official said that the emperor had had enough of a general whose interpretation of a victory was a successful retreat.

AMUSEMENTS

The blasé theatergoers will witness a pleasing digression at the city opera house Friday night when "An Orphan's Prayer," the newest and said to be the best of the long list of pastoral plays, will be seen here for the first time. The story pictures life as we find it in quaint New England, and while the eccentric simplicity so peculiar to the characters in that region predominates, the play has its serious side. Seth Owens, a farmer, sends his only daughter, Florence to Vassar and to fill the vacancy adopts a child of the streets, called "Calamity," because of her rough exterior. Florence returns from school, scoffs at her foster sister, derides her father because of the adoption, and eventually takes consolation in seductive life with a fast set, bringing disgrace to herself and family. She takes advantage of "Calamity's" goodness of heart and succeeds in having her acknowledged as her own a nameless child brought into the world by her own sin. "Calamity's" self accusation causes Seth to drive her back to her native element, the streets of New York, where, after many vicissitudes so common to characters of this kind, she is found by Bob Everson, a country squire. The concluding scene of the second act showing the father's curse, "Calamity's" dismissal and tedious journey up the mountain through wind and snow, and the grand finale, where "Calamity" seeks to soothe the contrite sinner with a prayer for her salvation, is a very effective ending to an idyllic play.

The following are from the official bulletin of C. E. Shively, Supreme Chancellor of the Knights of Pythias: "The fee to be charged by a subordinate lodge for membership therein by the deposit of a transfer card shall be as prescribed by the grand lodge having jurisdiction, subject to the provisions of section 184 of these statutes." It is therefore clear that the Supreme Lodge did not intend to abolish the fee for a transfer card, but intended to leave it subject to the will of the grand lodges.

On a question presented by the general organizer of Indian Territory, I held that the insurance branch of the order (designated as the Endowment Rank) is restricted to those who have attained the Rank of Knight, and that, therefore, a Page or Esquire is not eligible to membership in that rank.

It should be remembered that there are no "degrees" in Pythianism, but "ranks." Members occupying high stations occasionally speak of "degrees" in our order.

Pythian law recognizes no honorary rank. Every member receiving a rank must do so by service.

It has been reported to this office that there have been some violations of the supreme statutes in reference to copying parts of the ritual. I wish to call the attention of the membership to the strict provision of the penalty provided for a violation thereof.
